BUSINESS CRUCIFIED

overnment should be urged to dead by a uniform policy with the growing evil of local tax-exemption securities."

The results of the last national election, Judge Hull asserted, were secured by "criminal malignity and reckless falsehood" on the part of the Republican leaders.

"It was not so much the Democratic party; it was the American people, who suffered the colossal and incalculable losses that resulted from Democratic defeat," he said.

Under the power of wholesale abuse, falsehood and detrac-tion to dim the glory of the eight years' unparalleled achievement of the national Democracy. The work of constructive patriotic statesmen-ship accomplished by that party will stand out in clearer perspective during the coming years. The Democratic party emerged from that almost super-human ordeal with flag un-tarnished, with doctrines sound and pure, with a record of undying fame, and with cheerful hope for the future.

"Fundamental principles cannot be assassinated and a great historic record cannot long be falsified."

"Wholesale breach of solemn and unqualified promises to the people constituted a statutory crime," Judge Hull said. "Every reactionary Republican leader, State and national, would be guilty of guilty in the history of the last century."

Business Crucified on Political Cross.

The disappointed farmer now reads the account of his industrial ruin by the light of his burning corn. Millions of laborers are fre-quenting the soup-kitchens, bread lines and the auction block as in the days of chattel slavery business has discovered that it was crucified on the cross of politics."

Under Republican leadership, the chairman said, American foreign commerce has slumped $6,000,000,000 in the last twelve months, and an almost vertical slump in prices in America of from 30 to 50 per cent and in purchasing power of farm products, of 60 per cent, quickly followed. For two years prior to March, 1921, he said, the economy offered by Republican leaders for post-war conditions was "an anticipated high tariff and the archaic doctrine of commercial protection."

Must Develop Sound Public Opinion.

Development of a "sound public opinion that will give intelligent and active support to legislatures and Congress in enactment of wise political legislation" was declared by the speaker to be "the first need of the country at this time."

"The country is in sad and urgent need," he said, "of more education and more co-operation on the part of individuals and business with respect to our public affairs. An intelligent understanding and whole-hearted cooperation of public and private could soon improve government performance."

Only Better Results in Democracy.

The Democratic party is the only political organization, Judge Hull contended, which today offers "a comprehensive up-to-date national program of policies and principles." The party, he said, still holds to its beliefs in a tariff for revenue only, for the reduction of governmental expenditures, for small rights to all and special privileges to none."

"The recent Democratic administration has not yet received credit for its many great accomplishments," he said. "But whatever its defamers may say in the future, even the school children will soon learn that in 1912 our national wealth was $17,000,000,000 and in 1920, when the Democratic administration was elected, our foreign trade was $3,500,000,000 and in 1920 it was $16,000, 000,000. A year after the war the value of manufactured goods exported in one month equaled the amount exported in an entire year under Taft's administration."
